PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

Brand identity designer with six years of experience across construction technology, fintech, publishing, interiors and professional bodies. I work from brand strategy through visual identity, logo and mark design, typography, colour systems and brand guideline documents, then take the identity out to signage, packaging, vehicle livery, stationery, merchandise, print, campaign and social media.

I treat design as problem solving. If the problem is still there at the end, the work is not finished, whatever it looks like. That standard is also why my range is wide. Brand projects kept needing websites, campaigns kept needing decks, and I learned each discipline rather than pass the client to someone else. It means I can carry a brand from strategy to the last printed surface without a handover in the middle.

SELECTED BRAND WORK

- ADLM Studio — Brand and Design System · LIVE — Identity and design system for a construction technology company with six products and no clear way to tell them apart. Colour tokens carry two values for each role, so the brand blue holds its contrast on light and dark backgrounds.

- NIQS — Brand Strategy and Identity Redesign · LIVE, IN USE — Full redesign for the Nigerian Institute of Quantity Surveyors, a fifty-six-year-old professional body with chapters nationwide. Guidelines, stationery, environmental and ceremonial applications, plus a template library chapters use to publish their own announcements.

- YDPay — Brand Identity System · ADOPTED, IN USE — Identity for a crypto fintech that had no typographic voice or application system. Delivered the guideline, colour framework, touchpoint gallery, stationery, merchandise, and the campaign system for the YDPay x AFC Free Fire Tournament.
